City To See 3 Contests

Three contested races will be listed on the city ballot April 5 as filing deadline closed Saturday with no new candidates.

City Sec. John Andres listed the following candidates for the city election.

For mayor -- Bassel Wilson and Coleman Duncum.

For councilman, Place 1 -- Roy Griffith and B. L. Miller.

For councilman, Place 2 -- Sam B. Houston.

For councilman, Place 4 -- Erwin L. Wied.

For councilman, Place 5 -- Homer Allen and John A. Smith.

Miller was the last candidate to file for a place on the Tuesday, April 5 city ballot.

Incumbent Councilman Houston and Wied will be unopposed.

Incumbent Mayor Wilson will be seeking a second consecutive term while Duncum will be seeking his first term as mayor.

Allen and Smith will contest Place 5, both for the first time as council candidates.

Griffith is incumbent councilman in Place 1. He has served on the city council about eight terms. Miller is seeking a first term.

Officials are expecting a heavy city vote due to the number of candidates running for office this spring. In 1958 the city races drew 1196 votes, a near record.

Two posts Place 4 and 5 are for one year, due to the death of councilman Hayden Lawrence in December and Lincoln Mondrik's resignation March 1.

The other terms are two - year posts.

The only post not up for voter consideration in April is held by Councilman Richard Moseley. Mondrik, Lawrence and Moseley were re - elected without opposition in 1959.

01' With F. M. L. 100

The sun peeked through the low-slung clouds Wednesday for the first bit of sunshining we've seen around Milam County for the past six weeks.

It surely makes everyone feel better when the sun is shining and work can go on around the house, the farm and the business.

It just makes for a better atmosphere. We can hardly recall when folks were as unhappy with the weather as they (including ourselves) were with the recent stuff.

100 - 100 - 100

PUN DEPARTMENT — Overheard some doubletalk the other day which we thought was funny. Following is what seemed to make more sense than non .....

"An economist is a man who begins by knowing a very little about a great deal, and gradually gets to know less and less about more and more until he finally gets to know practically nothing about practically everything.

"Whereas, a statistician, on the other hand, begins by knowing a very great deal about a very little and gradually gets to know more and more about less and less, until he finally gets to know practically everything about nothing."

100 - 100 - 100

Well, if I had any unannounced friends who were unannounced economists or statisticians, I'm sure they have now entered a new category.

Ah, well, those friends I didn't know I had probably didn't know for sure they were my friends since we hadn't agreed we were friends in the first place.

And that makes about as much sense as the anecdote. But the beautiful sunshine is out and people should be happy they're alive and paying taxes.

YHS Band Director

Cox Wins Cup

Francis Cox, band director at Yoe High School for the past 29 years, Tuesday night received the coveted McCullin Citizenship Award.

Presented by last year's winner, Richard Moseley, the silver cup went to Cox for service to Cameron and its youth through his church and profession.

Moseley's introduction held the Chamber banquet audience in suspense finally broken by an audible sign at the announcement of the winner.

Cox said he "was gratified to work with your children these many years and said receiving the McCullin award was "A high point of my activities in Cameron."

Cox is a member of First Baptist Church, where he is a deacon and member of the church board and a Sunday School teacher.

Dr. S. H. Richardson

Francis Cox

Moseley said that "Cox has utilized his profession to influence the community and its youth by his example and ideals."

Cox has developed a state-renowned 100 - piece high school band, winning state honors in concert for many years. He sings in the First Baptist Church choir and directs choral groups at Yoe High School.

The McCullin Award, a silver loving cup, is presented annually to a Cameon resident who is cited by the Cameron Chamber, Junior Chamber and Business and Professional Women's Club for outstanding civic contributions.

Dr. Richardson To Head C of C In Next Year

Atty - Gen. Will Wilson Tuesday night said that keeping organized crime out of cities helped their growth in a speech before a capacity Cameron Chamber of Commerce crowd.

Wilson was the headline speaker at the Cameron Chamber's annual banquet at the First Methodist Fellowship Hall. More than 300 Cameron business and civic leaders and Central Texas business leaders were on hand.

His address also urged communities like Cameron to stabilize their growth to avoid a centralizing movement of population that creates danger of nuclear attack in concentrated areas and heightens social problems such as juvenile delinquency.

He encouraged the Chamber to work for "the middlesize Texas city" which he called the "ideal living situation."

Wilson's speech followed presentation of the 1959 McCullin Citizenship Award to Francis Cox, Yoe High School band director for the past 29 years. Presenting the award was Richard Moseley, 1958 recipient of the large silver cup.

And incoming president Dr. S. H. Richardson accepted the gavel of 1960 Chamber president from outgoing president Milton Schiller.

Dr. Richardson presented Schiller with a plaque for his service as president of the Cameron Chamber in behalf of the membership.

Other new officers presented were: first vice - president, Richard Williams; and second vice - president, E. O. Schiller, Jr.

Dr. Richardson said he would depend on his officers and directors and Chamber members to assure a successful Chamber year and appealed for interest in all Chamber activities.

Schiller presented eight outgoing directors and introduced their successors and the 16 other directors who hold office for another year. Williams introduced guests from 12 Texas cities.

Cox directed a Yoe High School choral ensemble in two numbers prior to the McCullin presentation. They sang "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and "Go Down, Moses."

The invocation was given by the Rev. John T. Geiser, Pastor of St. Monica's Catholic Church, Cameron.

Introduced by Emory B. Camp, Cameron attorney, Wilson cited the trend of centralization in business, population, labor and government since World War I.

"The average East Texas county had 35,000 to 40,000 residents and five to 10 towns, but now has 25,000 to 30,000 residents with one or two major towns," he said.

These centralizing forces have brought a need to slow the trend because of the threat of nuclear attack and characteristics of government, business and labor bureaucracy, he continued.

Wilson cited his much - publicized Texas Ranger raid of gambling houses in Galveston which closed about 40 of them. "Galveston began to grow after they were eliminated," he said.

He said that keeping organized rackets out of cities helps growth even though some cities have been convinced that organized crime is good for business.

Citing Texas's growth in population, the attorney - general said that one expert predicted that Texas would surpass California in population in the 1980's after that West Coast state passes New York in a few years.

He cited a possibility for communities like Cameron in using grain sorghums to establish a feed lot program for export out of state.

"If you keep industry from moving population from smaller towns to cities, you will help avoid nuclear attack danger and the social problems of the city," he noted.

Wildcat Drilling

General Crude Oil Company No. 1 H. H. Coffield, Milam County's latest deep wildcat, was drilling ahead early this week.

This wildcat, located on a 54 acre tract in the Hill Survey about 3 miles south of Milano, was drilling at 5987 feet Monday, San Antonio Express oil editor, Nancy Heard, reported in her column Tuesday.

A slight gas show was found earlier in the Edwards around 5700 feet. The Coffield is permitted to 10,000 feet.

General Crude's No. 2 Perry, about one mile south, was preparing to test as soon as pumping equipment could be moved in. An attempt reportedly will be made to complete this wildcat in the Navarro on perforations at 3475 - 95 and 3498 - 506 feet, after oil was swabbed last week. The No. 2 Perry was drilled to 8621 feet, and an earlier try in the Edwards around 6000 - 6100 feet found only slight shows.

The Navarro formation produces oil in the Minerva -Rockdale shallow field where the wells range from 600 to over 1400 feet in depth.

TB Group To Meet Monday

The Milam County Tuberculosis Association will hold their annual dinner meeting at Singer's Grill, Rockdale, Monday, March 14, at 7:30 p. m.

Some of the accomplishments made by the Milam County Tuberculosis Association were: contributed toward the purchase of PAS pills, bought clothing for patients who were to be hospitalized, fitted one patient from Milam County with glasses, responded to all requests of the state hospitals concerning patients from our county. The Association also voted to send each patient $2.00 per month to take care of personal expenses, as most of our patients do not have any income. Medicine was provided for hardship cases when needed. No money was spent for cases findings because another organization had supplied sufficient funds for this past year.

According to Harry Clark, president, Milam County has 39 active cases and 68 inactive cases of TB, with 11 new cases reported this past year. Four persons were hospitalized this past year, three were dismissed with medical advise, four patients came home against medical advice, and four were furloughed to the Milam County Health Department.

Two deaths, one elderly male and one female, occurred in the County this year. Milam County now has four patients in the state hospital, two in the Jewish hospital in Denver, and several in the Veteran's Hospital. There are 13 patients who have been dismissed from the state sanitarium and are at home on medicine, and 5 are at home on medication under the supervision of a private physician.

Two delegates and a representative director from Milam County are delegated each year to attend the annual meetings of the Texas TB Association to bring back the latest developments and ideas.

Four - H work produces leaders like the three young ladies in the accompanying picture.

Jo Ann is a very active member in the county wide 4-H Club. She is president of the county council, secretary - treasurer for county - wide 4-H Club, and member of the dairy judging team.

Baptist Church Sponsors Men's Singing Group

The "Singing Men" will be organized this Thursday night in the First Baptist Church of Cameron. This group will be composed of men, young men over 17, who like to sing and will put forth a little effort and time to have a good group.

The "Singing Men" will be open to any man in the community. We invite all of those men that really like this type of thing. It will take several good voices of both tenor and bass quality to make this organization what it should be.

Meeting time will be 7:30 p.m. in the Educational Building. Light refreshments will be enjoyed after the organizational meeting this Thursday night.

For the present, Sacred music will be used. Later, we hope to add Spiritual and Secular music to the repertoire.

Rev. A. O. Jenkins

Rev. Jenkins To Preach At Marlow Church

Rev. A. O. Jenkins will be preaching in a Spiritual Emphasis Week at the Marlow Baptist Church, March 13 - 20. He is a native of Mississippi where he attended Clarke Memorial College. He graduated from East Texas Baptist College in Marshall, and attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

His pastorites have included the First Baptist Church of Nome, Texas and the Greenwood Baptist Church of Greenwood, La. For the past seven years he has been pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church in Port Arthur. During this time there have been over one thousand additions to the church. The annual income has almost tripled. The church, under his leadership, has recently purchased twenty acres of ground and erected new buildings valued at $600,000.

Rev. Jenkins introduced the Forward Program of Church Finance to Texas Baptist. He served on the first committee authorized by Texas Baptist for the promotion of this program among churches. He is married and has three daughters, one son and one grand daughter. He is a popular speaker and much in demand as an evangelist.

Rev. Jenkins preached for two weeks in Scotland last year and toured the Holy Land. He will be showing slides made there in each of the evening services this coming week. The public is invited to attend these services at 7:30 p. m. nightly.

Plant Disease

The prevention and control of plant diseases are important in livestock production because profits depend on maximum yeilds from pastures and crops. Harlan suggests a visit with the local county agent for information on the subject.

The best time to practice economy is when you have something to practice with.

'Seek Peace And Pursue It' Is Assembly Theme

"Seek Peace and Pursue It" was disclosed as the theme of the forthcoming assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held at the old V. F. W. Hall in Temple, Texas March 11 - 13th.

Fred Starnes, presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses stated that last minute preparations are being made for many from Cameron to be among the more than 500 delegates traveling from throughout south-central Texas.

Sponsored by the world headquarters in Brooklyn, New York, this assembly of ministers is but one out of thousnds taking place regularly throughout the earth. Jehovah's Witnesses have 85 Branch offices strategically located in every continent. These along with the main office in New York direct the work of 19,982 individual congregations, one of which is located at East 22nd Street, Cameron.

The function of each congregation is to expand the teachings of the Bible throughout the community. This is done by calling at the homes, giving door - to - door sermons, and in addition leaving printed scriptural information. At their meeting places, called Kingdom Halls, they gather three times a week to counseled and trained in the ministry and to listen to Bible sermons. Twice yearly they attend these larger religious gatherings.

Highlights of the Temple meet will be the discussion on "Proving Our Faith By Works" beginning at 6:45 Friday evening; the Baptismal service on Saturday; climaxed by the public discourse at 3 p. m. Sunday, "Finding Peace in a Troubled World."

Danny Roy Beene' To Speak At Temple

Danny Roy Beene', 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert T. Beene' of Cameron, has been choosen to speak before an assembled audience of nealy 400 at the forthcoming assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in Temple, March 11-13th at the old V. F. W. Hall

Danny is a student at Ada Henderson School. In addition to his outstanding scholastic achievements he has chosen, at an early age, the ministry as his life vocation.

Lovell G. Willhite, local representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York and Circuit Director for nearly 20 different south - central congregations, noticed Danny's unusual abilities and invited him to have part in the Temple meeting.

Danny's selected career is not without precedent, for Mr. Beene' is himself a minister of Jehovah's Witnesses. Beene' attended the University of Honolulu in Hawaii and upon being discharged after 18 years of service in the United States Navy he then pursued the ministry. He is at present the Assistant Minister of the congregation here in Cameron.

TELEPHONE TALK

Good Service And Good Earnings Go Hand In Hand

The function of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. is to serve you and serve you well. We must serve you well to prosper. And just as surely we must prosper to serve you well.

Progress does not just happen, it has to be encouraged through research and new developments. Research and good management are necessary in order to provide the kind of telephone service the people here in Cameron and need and want.

It is only through good earnings that we can do the research and the long-pull planning that improve your service and keep down the price you pay for it.

Sure there have been increases in the price of telephone service just as everything else. But thy would have been far greater if we had not been able to absorb some part of our own increases in cost through technological advances and economies in operation. All these advances in telephone science costs a lot of money, and only with adequate profit can we run the business most efficiently and take advantage of long-range economies.

Improving Service In Cameron

Remember what the Red Queen said to Alice during her stay in Wonderland?

It went something like this: "You have to run fast to stay exactly where you are."

With a little manipulating, this can be applied to a business. It could mean that "telephone service is good now, but it must be constantly improved in order to stay good."

That's exactly what's happening, too. Telephone service is improving. Many improvements are behind the scenes — you'll never see them as you use your phone. But they are there, nevertheless. They're necessary, too, if we're to keep telephone service "as modern as today."

Pick - A - Phone

"Sure be nice when the spring flowers start blooming," a fellow down the block said the other day. "Just looking at their colors makes me feel good."

"Say," I said, "since you like color so much, I have a suggestion."

"What's that?" he asked.

"A color phone. You have a wide choice. Red, white, green — nine altogether.' Almost as an afterthought I added, "You can pick your phone from . . . a garden of colors!"

That did it. "Now you're talking my language," said my garden-loving friend. He chuckled. "Colors of the garden in my house with color phones. Think I'll get one — maybe even two."

Why don't you do as he did? Treat yourself to color phones.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

CITY . . .

Successful Examples . . .

Industry is searching for sites in Central Texas as attested by success stories in Georgetown and McGregor last week.

Concerted efforts in both towns have produced at least two confirmed industries in recent weeks and prospects for two more.

What has been the reason for their success? In Georgetown it was the spirited drive of the Chamber of Commerce and in McGregor it was the industrial committee of businessmen that keyed the drive.

Georgetown will get a 50-employee plant for the manufacture of upholstered furniture while McGregor did not release specific data except that a new industry was assured.

In recent months, Hearne landed two industries to produce tile or clay products. They will employ about 200 people.

These developments show that Central Texas is interesting to small industry.

Cameron actually pioneered in small Central Texas towns in getting Walled Lake Door Co. about five years ago. The trend seems to be the movement of small industry from larger cities in Texas or from the East to smaller towns.

These developments show that there is not only hope of getting payrolls for Central Texas communities, but assurance they are available.

We recently read of a community in Oklahoma, Hugo, that added tremendously to their area income by developing industry along the lines of natural resources there. This was only scrub timber and manpower. The main source of income had been only "government checks."

Milam County with its wealth of agricultural resources could find its basic farm economy nicely supplemented by small industry payroll. Some other communities now getting these small plants have not been as well off as Cameron.

What helps bring in industry? A united public interest is a major factor plus concerted efforts to raise funds that are usually required to assist small industry in setting up their operations.

Cameron knows the ropes in getting industry. And the additional payrolls can be obtained to augment a shifting agriculture economy.

Every community can use additional spendable income. It means jobs, better business, better property values and a generally healthy atmosphere. How about it, Cameron?

Nobody Asked Me, But

The element of courage has taken on new perspective in the nuclear age. The public's keen interest in self-assertion along the lines of TV Westerns suggests an unwillingness to reassess the meaning of the word.

Individual or group courage is no longer an overt thing in the modern concept except perhaps in the final failure to employ it in less violent ways.

We read somewhere that the greatest act of courage is for a mother to accept her son's decision to break from the security of the household. Though she knows he will meet unpleasantness and disappointment, she allows the break to come, thereby having the courage to let him fend alone.

And that is in part a new context for the word, "courage." It is not overt, violent and physically impressive, but is subjectively courageous.

Now this is not a new thing, but we are more often recognizing the unspoken, dispassionate act than we are the open concept of slam-bang assertion of another era.

This concept is looked upon with less pride and respect at first. But in the final analysis, a quiet decision is much more difficult than one shared with an onlooking group.

"If I could only get at the problem," a man will say, "if only I could put my hands on it, it would be easier."

But the problems are less tangible, more remote and fleeting. Thus, we have psychiatrists and psychologists and all the rest.

Each of us is required to make more individual decisions that rankle us each time. But made alone, the decision is ours and nonetheless courageous, even though we did not fight someone to win it.

Adults Of Texas Going To School

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Texas adults by the thousands are going back to school this year.

Their object: to learn what nuclear warfare could mean to the country and what they can do to better their chances of surviving it.

Texas Education Agency and the State Division of Defense and Disaster Relief are co - sponsors of the civil defense adult education program. Since the program got under way late last year, 2,816 persons over the state have taken the free 12 - hour course. Another 1,295 persons are attending 66 classes now in progress, and 150 new classes are due to begin this month.

Classes are held at public schools and taught by public school and junior college teachers who have been trained and certified by TEA civil defense staff.

Seven new teachers training workshops are scheduled within the next few weeks. Eventual goal is to have civil defense classes in or near every Texas community.

Course material ranges from study of the effects of a nuclear bomb and probable capabilities of hostile powers ot step - by - step instructions for personal survival preparedness.

Persons interested in having the course in their communitites may contact their local school superintendent or write Civil Defense Education Director, Texas Education Agency, Austin.

NO SESSION BEFORE PRIMARY

Gov. Price Daniel said he will not call a special legislative session to raise teacher pay before May 7 — the first primary date.

Conference with lawmakers have convinced him, said the governor, that there is no hope of a successful session during the coming eight weeks.

However, the governor said he may call a session after the May 7 primary or submit the school improvement program as an emergency measure at the 1960 regular session. If he waits until 1961, Daniel said he would recommend an increased program to make up for money lost by delay.

Mony observers have noted that a special session after the first primary election would pose many problems. As much as 25 to 30 per cent of the House could be made up of "lame ducks" -- persons retiring from office or defeated at the polls. Incumbent legislators with run - off races would not want to leave their home districts to come to Austin.

Teachers would prefer to have the matter submitted at a special session. Regular session rules require that the budget be provided for before new spending can be considered. Last year approval of the budget was just about the last thing before adjournment.

ACCIDENT STUDY

A new study indicates that motor vehicles and heart attacks or similar difficulties were involved in more than half of Texas' fatal industrial accidents in the last fiscal year.

Industrial Accident Board reported on an analysis of 23,000 accident claims. In the group studies, it found that fatal accidents were most often connected with motor vehicles, 28 per cent; heart disease, 26 per cent; slip and falls, 10 per cent; striking or being struck by an object, 7 per cent.

Althogether, in the last fiscal year, the Board processed claims resulting from 195,000 non - fatal accidents and 497 deaths.

Annual cost of industrial accidents is estimated at $500,000,000 a year. Board plans to make an accident analysis every year to gain information for planning improvemnt programs.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

A sign in front of a theater which was showing "The Curse of Frankenstein":

"It will haunt you forever."

I murmured, "Thanks for the warning" -- and didn't go.

Another sign in Kansas City: "Mid - Summer Sale -- Mixed Drinks at Reduced Prices."

A placard in a store window had this intriguing bit of information: "Jones Is Delightfully Air - Conditioned." The Jones referred to is a store, not a man.

The first cafeteria I entered, the piped - in music being heard at the moment was "San Antonio Rose" and, during my meal at another cafeteria, I was regaled with "That Good Old Baylor Line". (However, the Kansas Citians probably thought they were hearing "The Good Old Summer Time."

In one cafeteria, the cashier doesn't use an adding machine; she just looks at the contents of the tray, adds the items in her head and hands you a ticket with the total.

Incidentally, one of these eating establishments has a sign on the stairs, "Use the Hand Rail". As it requires two hands to carry the tray, only an octopus could obey the admonition.

Four stangers (myself among the number) were waiting for a special ball - park bus to see the Kansas City Athletics play but found that the service was not provided that day so we shared a taxi. One of the three turned out to be from Texas, so we told Texas stories all the way out to the park, which no doubt made a big hit with the two Missourians.

The Texan was an Amarillo Banker and I was tempted (but resisted) to ask if he was the Amarillo banker who, so an Amarilloan told me, was responsible for the Palo Duro canyon. You recall the story of course that an Amarillo baker dropped a dime down a prairie - dog hole and dug the canyon, trying to recover the dime.

Insecticide On Crops

One way to safeguard against excessive insecticide residues on harvested crops and protect those who handle the materials is to follow the recommendations of the manufacturer, C. F. Garner, associate extension entomologist, says the label on every insecticide container should be studied and followed to the letter.

Two-Million Cars To Be Inspected By April Deadline

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that more than two - million motor vehicles remain to be inspected before the April 15 deadline. He urged all Texas motorists to obtain their new inspection stickers at an early date.

Garrison reported that more than 4,300,000 will be inspected in Texas this year. To date only about half that number have gone through inspection lines at some 4,400 inspection stations located throughout the state.

The DPS director pointed out that inspection stations cannot inspect vehicles during wet, rainy weather, a condition normally prevehicle owner is able to obtain early spring. To make sure every vehicle owner is able to obtain his 1960 inspection sticker in time, Garrison susggested that plans be made now to visit an inspection station, before inspection lines grow long.

Water Conservation Stamp Announced

A 4-cent commemorative postage stamp calling attention to the urgency of water conservation in the United States will be issued April 18, 1960 by the Post Office Department, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

The Nation's first water conservation stamp will be formally released at the Seventh National Watershed Congress in Washington, D. C. A total of 120 million stamps will be printed. Details as to design and color will be announced later.

"The stamp will help direct attention to the fact that nearly every community in the Nation has a water problem," Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said. "Most problems of water shortage, poor water, or flood trace back to the land -- to the small watersheds on which rain or show falls.

Secretary Benson said "farmers and ranchers who control our farmland, rangelands, and woodlands control to an important degree the movement of water that falls on their property. Public land, including the National and State Forests, are equally important to the water sheds of which they are a part."

THIS WEEK:

Round-The-Clock Senate Sessions Are Like Round-The-Clock Farming

Dear editar:

A man can go along for years without getting recognition for an idea, but when the United States Senate suddenly adopts his idea, he feels like his efforts haven't been in vain.

What I'm talking about is the Senate's round - the - clock working sessions which have been in the newspapers and on television lately.

That's exactly the system I've Leen using out here on this Johnson grass farm for years, and I congratulate the Senate.

As I understand it, the Senate had an unusually hard problem to tackle, so it decided to stay in session till it was solved. And the first thing it did was bring in a lot of cots and mattresses, ordered the Senate resturant to say open all nigh, rolled up its sleeves and went to work.

This almost parallels the system I've used out here for years, with the exception of the resturant; that's a refinement that's one up one me.

But the general idea, that you can work around the clock and still take time out to stretch out and rest, sleep and eat, is part of my basic procedure. Now, when I get tired of going up one row and down another and get off my tractor and stretch out under a shade tree later on this year, and somebody says, look at him, out there loafing when he ought to be working, I will point out that he's not just criticizing me, he's criticizing the Senate of the United States of America. The idea that a farmer has to be on his tractor plowing if he's working, or a Senate has to be on his feet talking if he's Senatoring, is now out of date.

Me, and The United States Senate both have discovered a man can work around the clock and still lie down and rest when he fells like it. Year - around farming and around - the - clock sessions of Congress are like all - night sessions of fishing -- you don't have to be running your lines all the time.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Government in ANY Business Endangers ALL Business!

Government in any business endangers all business. Government in business escapes many normal obligations . . . pays no taxes, little or no interest, and spends tax money that is needed for normal government services.

The government is in the electric power business now and present plans will put it in the electric power business deeper . . . at the expense of the taxpayer. If the government can make and sell electricity, it can do likewise with shoes, groceries, automobiles, or anything else you need for everyday living.

Government regulation of private business is the democratic way . . . but government competition with private business is a ruinous idea taken from the Socialistic doctrines of Europe. Every nation that has followed the Socialistic patterns has in time faded into oblivion.

TP&L is a business-managed, investor-owned, tax-paying electric service company adequately and economically supplying the electrical needs of the area it serves without government funds of any kind.

Johnson, Poage Discuss Issues

Senate . . .

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson said Sunday United States' participation in the International Development Association IDA) would hold forth a two - fold promise: "timely aid for the poor people of the world, and eventual relief for the burdened taxpayer of America."

In a radio broadcast recorded for his Texas constituents, Johnson called IDA an "important step in the right direction" -- recognition of responsibilities to aid under - developed nations, together with recognition that this nation cannot do the job alone.

He pointed out that IDA would draw support from revitalized nations of the free world -- such as West Germany and Japan. It would be designed to provide long-term, low - interest - rate loans to less developed member nations where such financing cannot be obtained on reasonable terms from other sources.

House . . .

By Cong. Bob Poage

Most of the Congressional activity, or as some people would say, lack of activity, has been on the Senate side this week. I have just been over in the Senate Chamber this afternoon. This has been my first visit to the scene of the extended "educational discussions". Members of the House simply don't have the opportunity to visit on the Senate side as frequently as our friends at home think we do.

As everyone knows, the Senate has been staying in session round the clock. The thing looks ludicrous. The nearly empty Chamber, the droning speeches are all calculated to - and unquestionably do give a bad impression of the democratic processes of legislation, but it is a deadly serious thing which is going on over there. The Southern Senators are making every effort to prevent the passage of legislation which is, in my opinion, erroneously called "Civil Rights", I think the true civil rights of all people are best insured by protecting and maintaining the judicial processes on which we have so long depended for justice in our courts.

The President, his Attorney General and the Vice President who, it should be remembered, is the presiding officer of the Senate are all pushing legislation which would authorize the appointment of so-called "referees" who would be able to interfere with the election processes of any State even in communitits where there was no complaint whatever. I would not deny any citizen the right to vote, and I know of no one in Central Texas who has been denied this right but as I see it, this "referee" proposal is little more than a re - enactment of the old "Force Bills" which was passed by the Reconstruction Congress. Even the radical Republicans of that day came to recognize that such legislation was incompatible with free government. I can't see the slightest justification for reviving this relic of Reconstruction. Yet, that is exactly what Vice President Nixon and his Republican colleagues in the Senate as well as a very substantial number of Northern Democrats are trying to do.

Senator Johnson as Democratic Leader is standing somewhat in the middle, recognizing that the radicals have the votes to pass almost any type of legislation but trying to bring about a compromise will be at least somewhat less destructive of real civil rights. If he succeeds, he will surely be entitled to replacing Henry Clay as the "Great Compromiser."

Tips To Broiler Growers To Improve Chickens Development

Boys and girls growing broilers in the Chamber of Commerce program have had reasons to limit the area and amount of fresh air for their baby chicks due to the continued cold weather during the 10 days growing period.

The chicks are 10 days old now and are beginning to feather and eat more feed. Due to this rapid development, attention should be called to giving the chicks more room and a little more fresh air in order to prevent feather picking and eventually "cannibalism" or pecking one another.

The agent visited a new grower that had confined the chicks in a large box about two by three feet, plenty of litter, fresh water, grit and a suitable heat lamp for adequate protection from the cold. The chicks were a week old and were receiving a little too much heat due to the heat lamp being a little too close and the chicks were not able to get away from the heat due to the confinement in the box.

How did the county agent sense this condition by just a visit? Upon observation, it was noted that the chicks soon began moving to against the sides of the box trying to get away from the heat. For further evidence, the heat lamp was raised some eight inches and the chicks soon began moving t ward the center of the box and around the feed trough.

What causes cannibalism? Overheating, over crowding, poor ventilation, failure to provide chick size grit, not enough feed and water space and any condition unfavorable to the comfort of the chicks will cause feather picking.

Why bother about these things Now? Once feather picking and cannibalism is started, it is very difficult to stop. One of the things the judge will look for in selecting top broilers is good feathering. Broilers with the feathers picked off their backs are automatically grade "C" regardless of fleshing and finish.

Plant Disease Cuts Livestock Profits

COLLEGE STATION — The prevention and control of plant diseases are important in livestock production because profits depend on maximum yields from pastures and crops.

In many instances, says Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist, the weather, soil or planting seed get the blame for low production when plant diseases cause the losses. Too, he adds, poor quality feed or forage often results from damages caused by plant diseases. Such feed does not contain the vitamins, minerals and other essentials necessary for good animal health, says the pathologist.

The fungi, bacteria and other germs which cause plant disease cannot be seen with the naked eye. And plant diseases are difficult or impossible to control once they have infected a crop. However, says Smith, many can be prevented. For example, the treating of planting seed with a good fungicide will aid in controlling some feed and forage crop diseases.

The pathologist suggests that good, carefully selected seed which is dry, sound and free from combine injured seed coats be planted. Also that the seed be planted in a warm, mellow soil. Cold and wet soil favors seedling diseases.

He recommends that rotation be followed with annual feed and forage crops becuase growing the same crop on the same land year after year tends to increase plant disease problems. If a disease resistant crop variety or hybrid is available, Smith strongly urges its use. For as he puts it, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure in preventing plant disease losses.

New Program For Texas 4-H Club Members Told

COLLEGE STATION — A new award has been added to the 4-H Cooperative Result Demonstration and the 4-H Team Method Demonstration. Both are a part of the Farmer Cooperative Activity Award Program. According to Robert Cooper, extension economist in farm organization, and Floyd Lynch, State 4-H Club leader, 4-H members may now enroll as participants for the new awards.

Cooper and Lunch said the 1960 winners from each of the 12 Texas Extension districts in the 4-H Cooperative Result Demonstration Program would receive all - expense trips from their counties to Amarillo where they will assemble for a trip to Berkeley, Calif., and the annual meeting of the American Institue of Cooperation. These trips will come in August.

The State winning 4-H Method Demonstration Team in the Farmer Cooperative Activity will also receive similar trips. This team will be named after the State contest in June which is a part of the Texas 4-H Roundup.

The State leaders point out that this is an added annual award and is sponsored by the Extension Service and the Producers Grain Corporation, a regional farmers' cooperation, at Amarillo. Each year the district and State winners, under the new program, will receive out - of - state trips and will become members of the Talent Club. Since 1942, 266 outstanding Texas 4-H Club members have been initiated into the Talent Club, originated by J. Frank Triplett, longtime general manager of the Corporation.

Cooper and Lynch emphasize that this new program makes no change in awards previously announced as a part of the Farmer Cooperative Activity Program and provided by the Texas Federation of Cooperatives.

Local county extension agents have complete details on the new program and the two specialists urge all 4-H members to ask for more information about it. Now during 4-H Club Week, Cooper says

County Agents Notes . . .

Contagious Cattle Disease Explained

J. D. Moore, County Agent

Approximately thirty members of the county Extension Livestock committee, the Cameron Chamber of Commerce committee, the county Farm Bureau committee and other leading livestock men of the county were invited to attend a Brucellosis meeting last Friday, February 26, in Cameron. Attendance was disappointing with only six livestock men attending.

What is Brucellosis? Brucellosis is a contagious disease of cattle, swine, horses and other livestock caused by a specific kind of vacteria. In cattle it has been called Bangs disease. In swine it may be referred to as contagious abortaion. It sometimes is referred to as undulant fever in man.

The germ causing brucellosis is not a hardy individual and can not survive long outside the animal's body under Texas climatic condiditons. It spreads mainly from animal to animal through contaminated feed and water and through direct contact with infected animals having a discharge from the reproductive tract, only in swine is the disease commonly transmitted by breeding.

Man becomes infected by drinking milk from diseased animals or by handling diseased animals without proper sanitary precautions.

What is being done? The Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission is charged with the responsibility of spearheading the drive to curb and eventally control animal health problems. Under the commissions supervision, two types of programs are recommended. Type I program calls for calf - hood vaccination at the expense of the producers. The Type II program includes testing and slaughter of infected animals. A county must meet the requirements of the type II program in order to become a modified certified free area.

Jim Speer is working his track boys hard now in preparation for the Cotton Bowl Relays held in Taylor the 12th of this month.

Steve Malone is showing up well in High and Broad Jumping. It is also probable that the sophomore will see action in low and high hurdle dashes as well as the 440 yard dash.

Ed Lierman faired well in a small dual meet here Monday evening, winning the 100 yard dash over Rogers speeders with a 10.5. The lanky Junior will stand out in the 220 as well as the 100. He won both in district last year. He'll join with Malone in the Broad and High Jumping events and could see action in the 440 relays.

Carol Fikes could be Speer's top pole vaulter as well as running low hurdles, mile and 440 relays, and the 110 yard dash.

We've received word that Go Cart Racing has taken Thorndale by storm the past several weeks and it seems apparent that the same thing could happen to Cameron.

Thorndale and Belton both have their tracks for competitive races and a local automobile dealer has announced that he will handle the Carts for sales purposes.

For those who aren't familiar with these little babies, they weigh around two to four hundred pounds and usually horsepower ranges from about two to 12 screeming horses.

18 Schools To Attend YHS Track Meet March 19

Eighteen schools have sent word to Head Coach Jim Speer that they'll attend the Cameron Relays to be held here the 19th of March.

Waco took top honors last year and Brenham was first the two years previous. This is the 25 showing of the annual relays.

Thirty - three invitations were sent out to neighboring Central Texas schools but due to earlier commitments, only 18 accepted with a possibility of one more.

The meet was held in some of its worst weather last year and many of the events were cut short.

Despite a ripping wind and a bitter cold, a new mile record was set by Dub Allen of University High with a 4.36.5 mark. Harry Turner of Spring Branch threw the discuss for 153 mark, the old

CYO Volleyballers Named Champions

The Cameron CYC volleyball team won the Cameron CYC District championship by defeating the Frenstat and Dime Box teams. This is the third year in a row for the boys to win this championship. Last year the boys won the Diocese of Austin Championship.

The championship was determined by each team playing seven sets of games against teams from other towns. Both teams went through the season without a defeat.

Members of the girls team are Jeanette Richter, Lucille Jistel, Genevive Kostroum, Barbara Barta, Evelyn Dohnalik and Lorraine Wholeb and Martha Mayer.

The boys team is composed of Joe Vessels, Adrian Richter, Charles Hollas, James Barta, Ernest Bayer, Herman Mueck and Roy Wholeb.

The teams are coached by the Rev. Alfred Kallus.

The Diocesan playoff will be in Cameron this year. It will be held at the Simon - George Hall on April 3rd. The public is invited. There is no admission charge on these events.

Parents May Claim Working Children As Dependents

Parents may be entitled to claim their child as a dependent on their Federal income tax return even though the child earned $600 or more during 1959, A. P. Andrews, administrative officer for internal Revenue at Temple, said today.

Even though the child is required to file an income tax return if he has income of $600 or more for him as a dependent if certain conditions are met.

If he has been furnished more than half of his support, the parent may claim an exemption for him regardless of the amount he earned, providing he had not reached his 19th birthday by January 1, 1960.

When the child is 19 or over, he still may be claimed as an exemption if he was a full-time student during some part of five calendar months in 1959, and if the parent meets the support test. A full-time student is one who is enrolled for the number of hours which is considered to be full-time attendance.

In addition to attendance in the regularly recognized high schools and colleges or universities, a child also will considered a student if he is pursuing a full-time on-farm training course under the supervision of an agent of a State or political subdivision.

A child is not considered to be a full-time student if he is employed full time during the day and attends night school, or if he is taking a correspondence course or an employee training course.
